Deposits

You could be asked to pay a deposit. If a deposit is required, you may have the right to pay the deposit in installments.

Third-party notices

You have the option to ask that another person receive duplicate copies of your bills and notices.

For owners of tenant-occupied rentals

If you are the owner of a tenant-occupied rental property and pay the electricity bill in your name, you must notify us of this arrangement. We are obligated under the Oregon Administrative Rules to provide advance notice of a service disconnect to the primary billing address as well as the service address. The duplicate notice to the tenant at the service address does not contain detailed account information or dollar amounts, only that they should contact their landlord to discuss the service.

Payment plans

We offer payment plans, such as the Equal Payment Plan, to help make paying your bill easier. If you are unable to pay your bill, you may also enter into a special payment plan that allows you to pay the overdue amount over a period of time. Visit portlandgeneral.com/waystopay to learn more.

Financial assistance

Sometimes it can be difficult to pay your energy bill. You may qualify to receive help. Visit portlandgeneral.com/billhelp for PGE payment options and local programs that offer bill payment assistance to qualifying customers. You can also call 211 or visit 211info.org and download their free mobile app to find resources and helping agencies in your area.

Telephone communication consent

By providing your cell phone number, you have given your expressed consent to be called or texted by PGE and its contractors at that number with messages that are related to your service or account. This may include auto-dialed or recorded messages to tell you about outages, collection of payments or other account or service-related matters. Charges from your wireless carrier may apply to these calls. You have the right to revoke your consent at any time and by any reasonable means.

Disconnection notices

When disconnections occur, we'll typically provide you with both a 15-day notice and a five-day notice prior to disconnecting your service, except for emergency disconnections.

We'll also try to contact you by phone or in person prior to disconnecting your power. If you should receive one of these notices, instructions in Spanish, Vietnamese, Cambodian (Khmer), Lao and Russian will be included in the 5-day notice.

Call us at 800-542-8818 to learn more about your options for payment plans and other help to pay your bill.

Medical certificates

If you or a member of your household have a medical condition requiring electrical equipment, you may request a medical certificate form from PGE and have it completed by a licensed physician, nurse practitioner or authorized physician assistant. Once PGE receives a completed medical certificate form, your account may qualify for more flexible payment terms. Medical certificate customers are expected to enter into a payment plan when an overdue balance exists.

Late charges

You are responsible for paying your electricity bills on time. A late-payment charge may be applied if the bill is not paid in full.

Preferred billing dates

If you would like to have more control over when your monthly payment is due, you can. This option allows you to make a change to your billing date up to two times within a rolling 12-month period, so your payment becomes due each month at a time that's more convenient for you. The actual due date of your bill can vary from month to month, but will never be earlier than the due date you've requested using this option.

PGE equipment access

You are responsible for allowing PGE free and unrestricted access to PGE equipment, such as the meter, on your property. Power may be disconnected if PGE is not allowed access following reasonable notice.

PGE is responsible for and maintains the meter and service wire connected ahead of the weatherhead or entry point of an underground meter base. Property owners are responsible for and own the meter base, weatherhead, conduit and wiring from the weatherhead to meter base and any conductors or equipment beyond the meter and into the residence.

Resolving disputes

If you have a dispute with PGE that is not resolved by contacting us, the Consumer Services Section of the Oregon Public Utility Commission (OPUC) is available to help you.

You may call toll-free at 800-522-2404. TTY users, please dial 711.

Consumer organizations

The OPUC's Consumer Services Section maintains a list of organizations that represent customers in matters before the commission. That list is available by calling 800-522-2404 toll-free. TTY users, please dial 711.

If you have questions about any of this information, please contact us at 800-542-8818.
